

Operator Membership Only $30

AWWA knows what operators like you need: technical resources, training, and CEUs to maintain your certification. These things are crucial to you as an operator, and AWWA gives you tools for success. Become a member of PA-AWWA and take advantage of all the benefits of membership!

Technical Resources

- As a member of AWWA, you will receive Opflow, a monthly publication written by operators for operators. Contained in every issue is “Certification Corner” with practice questions for your exams, as well as how-to tips, case studies, and articles covering treatment and distribution operations, maintenance, safety, and solutions to common utility problems.
- You’ll also receive Water News Source, PA’s quarterly newsletter containing current information about water supply issues in Pennsylvania.
- Online resources are available to you 24/7, including The Water Library®, our online research and download center featuring past articles from Opflow.

Training

- Earn CEUs through educational events available throughout the state, including hands-on training provided by industry experts.
- AWWA’s eLearning has more than 45 self-paced courses on a variety of topics. ELearning allows you to earn CEUs conveniently, at your own pace, and from your computer at the office or at home.

Career Advancement

- Whether you’re continuing your education or looking for new opportunities, PA-AWWA provides excellent networking events and chances to meet others in the water field at national and state conferences, district meetings, committees, and other state and local events.

Discounts

- Reduced rates on registration for training courses, seminars, and conferences
- Reduced member pricing on all purchases through the AWWA Bookstore
