

Water For People's vision is a world where all people have access to improved drinking water and sanitation, a world where no one suffers or dies from a preventable water- or sanitation- related disease.

Billions of dollars have been invested in water projects throughout the developing world yet evidence of local communities managing these water and sanitation systems over time, and eventually replacing these systems without the help of international development organizations is rare.

Water For People is committed to changing that through their Everyone Forever initiative.

They strive to ensure that investment in development is shared among the local government, the community and other partners to address current and future challenges of water systems and services. They commit to monitoring their work for at least 10 years after project implementation to ensure that communities have functioning water and sanitation services that meet the needs of the people they serve. They look beyond the work of installing hardware (tanks, pipes, pumps, latrines) and focus on building local knowledge and institutional systems that support water and sanitation services Forever. They strive to build upon the momentum of Everyone Forever so that its principles can be adopted, expanding with partners beyond Water For People that join forces to create sustainable water and sanitation at a national level.

Together we can make total access to improved water a permanent reality and entire nations will never need an outside organization to address their water challenges again.

As Thanksgiving approaches, please consider the blessings you have every day. You turn on your faucet and flush your toilet, but there are many who have never had this ability. Show your gratitude by taking part in the Water For People Gala, sponsored by Stone Hill Contracting Co., Inc.. Net proceeds from this event support Water For People in their work around the world. If you can't attend, please consider a donation or sponsorship. No amount is too small. For as little as $1.00, you can make a difference in a person's life, so every dollar counts!
